

EACH SCORES 190 IN THE OPENING PLAY AT THE SHINNECOCK LINKS.

Under a dull sky and with a southeasterly breeze blowing half a gale, the Shinnecock golfers opened their annual tournament on the Shinnecock links yesterday. The conditions were anything but favorable for good golf. Peculiar Bay looked blue and dismal from the club piazza, while the view across the waters of Shinnecock Bay toward the poats and heavy sweaters, and the only bit of color in the dingy and dingy grayness of the scene was furnished by the duck skirts and puffy red coats of the women, who, gowned in the prettiest golfing attire, were among the most interesting spectators of the play.

So far as the tournament was concerned, everything passed off successfully. Of the eighty-eight entries, seventy were on hand for the opening round, and, though none of the scores made was particularly low, the match between Tyng and Powers took the first prize, each making a score of 129 for the thirty-six holes.

Who played with Stewart, the English amateur, whose play, though variable, displayed more brilliancy in his work than he had done since the Seabright meeting three weeks ago. He tied with Foxhall Keene, of the Rockaway Hunt Club, for second place, with 131 as his total score.

R. Terry, Jr., the Yale grifter, is entered for Ardley, and he is looked upon as one of the more prominent of the young amateurs. Yesterday he finished at 130, the place that placed him among the first in the medal Chaucery, of the Dyker Meadows Club, John Reid, Jr., of St. Andrew's, W. H. who finished below the 20th place.

Though the best teachers were expected to resign, the school board had the best sixteen players from the field, in order that they might make the most of the season. The players to which occurred first in the last two places made necessary a postponement of the final decision until to-day.

Those who finished at 20th place will be played off below, however, qualified, and the remaining two places will be filled this morning.

RADWAY'S PILLS.

DR. RADWAY—I have been troubled with Dyspepsia for about four months. I tried two different doctors without any permanent benefit. I saw your Ad., and two weeks ago bought a box of your Pills, and feel a great deal better. Your Pills have done me more good than all the Doctor's medicine that I have taken, &c. I am,

REDUCED RATES CAUSE TROUBLE

Chicago, July 27.—Vigorous protests have been filed with Chairman Caldwell, of the Western Passenger Association, regarding the reduced rates recently made to Chicago at the request of the National Merchants and Travellers' Association. The protests come from organizations of business men, who claim that the rates cause a discrimination in favor of Chicago. The roads declare that all towns in the territory of the Western Passenger Association can have same rates for passengers. The amount of the amount of tickets sold as the Merchants and Travellers' Association was compelled to guarantee before the roads would grant it any reduced rates.

LARGED DEFEATS MAHONY.

AN AMERICAN VICTORY IN THE LONGWOOD TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Boston, July 27.—One of the most interesting international tennis matches ever seen on this side of the water was played late afternoon in the Longwood grounds at Longwood, England, today. It resulted in a victory for the American expert over his British opponent, after a brilliant series had been played. W. A. Larned of Summit, N. J., on whom it is said rests the hopes of this country in retaining the United States championship at Newport next month, defeated the Englishman by the score of six sets to two. The young man who proved too much for the

RUBBER COMPANIES CONSOLIDATE.

Stockholders of the North American and the Liberty Rubber companies, of Setauket, Long Island, met at Grand and Green sts., Jersey City, yesterday and consolidated the two companies. The new company will be incorporated under the laws of New Jersey in the name of the Empire State Rubber Company. It will be operated by the Rubber Trust. Particulars of the proceedings at yesterday's meeting have been refused. The Empire State Rubber Company has a capital of $200,000. It will pay off the debts of the old companies and go into business on a bigger scale.

The sky was somewhat gloomed to any spectators, but this was not a factor. Plotted to play with Larned serving, and an ace, a net and another pass gave him the game in short order. Mahony took the next set through errors by Larned, and followed it up with four more games in succession, making the score 5-1. Then Larned took a brace and out for games to his credit, making it five all. Here, however, he fell off badly in his play, driving into the net or out of court, so that Mahony had no trouble in taking the set, 7-5.

Larned took the next game in the second set, but Mahony took the game, and then for a while was in and took until it was two games all. The Larned started off at a terrific pace, passing Mahony repeatedly, and placing the balls well out of reach with a speed that was simply marvelous. He gave Mahony just one more game in this set, and then rounded it off by five more.

At the beginning of the last set, which he could do the second set, started the third with the idea of doing up his opponent in short order. He was not to be so easily taken in, and he took much such as was anticipated. Mahony was absolutely unable to return his lightning drive, and he was out of the game in the second set.

After such a terrific pace the fourth set was an anti-climax. The American rounded out the set and match with a

WANT TO KNOW WHERE JOHN S. RICE

Anybody who can tell the whereabouts of John S. Rice may consider himself $1000 better off. Information which is valuable to the railroad industry is missing Wall Street. Broken if given to Messrs. Morgan and Co., it will be sold to the highest bidder.

"All we want to know is where he is," said Charles McBurney, a member of the firm of M. Hayes & Son. "If he has deserted his wife or for any other woman, all well and good. We firmly believe that he is alive, but where he is what bothers us."

Rice disappeared from his summer home in P. O. Box 104 on May 3. It has been learned that after he left there he went to his brokers, Toler & Halsey, and drew $3,000. He then went to a trust store and bought a dress-suit on credit. He then went to a clothing store and bought a pair of trousers. Since nothing definite has been learned of his whereabouts, although W. E. Taylor says he saw him Fifth-avenue, on May 10 or 11.

There is a good advertisement for a missing man had been drawn upon since his disappearance, and
